

Accountability and Implementation Board (AIB) Seeking Applications for Advisory Committees

The Accountability and Implementation Board (AIB) is deeply committed to the most extensive possible stakeholder engagement that values the rich diversity of Maryland to assist the AIB in transforming Maryland's education system into a world class system. We want to closely involve as many stakeholders from diverse geographic, economic, racial, ethnic, cultural, and gender backgrounds who represent various life experiences and viewpoints as is possible from across the State.

Purpose of Advisory Committees

1. To channel input from various stakeholders representing the rich diversity of Maryland with members and perspectives coming from diverse geographic, racial, ethnic, cultural, and gender backgrounds.
2. To identify problems, challenges, and barriers that may arise and provide insights and suggestions on what the AIB can do to address them.
3. To share successes and provide input/feedback on how the work of the Accountability and Implementation Board (AIB) and the Blueprint implementation are progressing.

Summary

- Four advisory committees representing the four content pillars of the Blueprint for Maryland's Future whose members represent collectively every region of the State.
- Advisory committees will meet at least quarterly, although a more frequent meeting schedule is at the discretion of each committee and is responsive to conditions.
- Each advisory committee will be staffed and facilitated by a professional staff member of the AIB.
- Each advisory committee will be composed of up to five members who have expertise and insight within the committee's particular pillar of the Blueprint for Maryland's Future, with membership defined below.
- At least one member of the AIB will serve as liaison(s) to each committee and will work in coordination with the assigned professional staff person to share pertinent information to the advisory committee and report committee feedback to the full board.
- Advisory committee members serve for two-year terms with the opportunity to reapply.
- In carrying out their advisory roles, advisory committees may determine, while seeking consensus, how to report on their consensus building and communicate their thoughts and reflections to the AIB.
